

WRITERSNAPSHOT PETERC-SWASH

A huge catalogue of hook laden tracks are fast-tracking UK songwriter and performer Peter C-Swash to the consciousness of the industry.

As a six times "resident" act at the world famous Glastonbury Festival and the first overseas writer to be featured on the US TV's "The Song" in 2013, performances on stage alongside acts as diverse as Nile Rodgers, Paul Young and Sigue Sigue Sputnik show his career knows no bounds when it comes to diversity.

Guided by Squeeze songwriter Chris Difford and Sir Ray Davies who announced optimistically, "Peter has just written the next big hit for Robbie Williams" his genre spanning catalogue covers EDM, Dance, Pop Rock and Indie.

Releases for The Voices on Polydor (Sacrificial Rites, Beauty Is The Beast – Heath Levy / Chelsea Music Publishing) showcased an emerging appreciation of hooks and hits and after some successful sync work and a stint in Nashville writing with the highly regarded Lorna Flowers, the focus has moved to further collaborations across the globe. Cars That Collide (driven by Peter himself) is a band perfectly designed for the post digital virtual world. Bev Benfell's hugely theatrical sound provides further evidence of diversity and a recent collaboration with QWEH is truly cinematic.
